Stars

I am still here
Sitting within the whispers of your heart
So if you start
To feel the well of tears
Or the heaviness of all those fears
Know this,
Everything we had still exists.
Look up at the stars that decorate the night sky
You and I do not sit within a sad goodbye
All we had survives
So do not fret the darkness of your mind
For you can find me anytime.
I exist within the seed of new ideas and dreams,
I am stitched within the seams of you
And everything you do.
I am still here.
